

MAKING HEALTHCARE AFFORDABLE TO ALL

From an Anesthesiologist to founding a Hospital, What inspired you to set up a hospital 1999?

Myself and my colleague Dr S. Chandrakumar, Executive Chairman of Kauvery Group of Hospitals are from Trichy and we were first generation entrepreneurs and our parents were government employees. After completing our post-graduation in medicine we realised that our home town lacked good quality critical care, so we started Kauvery Hospital as a 30 bedded facility at Trichy. Being an Anesthetist, it helped us to understand ICU, OT and Emergency better, the three core pillars of any Hospital. We were able to deliver excellent clinical outcomes & quality care at affordable rates Kauvery is recognized to have emerged as a growth driver in healthcare in the region. What have been the developments in recent times?

Post pandemic, the way a hospital functions has changed significantly. Digital Health has taken the center stage. We are now moving towards adaptation to newer technologies which can help connect and engage with patients for a better patient experience. Last couple of years there has been a growth in Innovative digital health solutions. Hospitals embracing these newer technologies will be able to adapt faster to the change in dynamics.

Secondly, the importance of good quality nursing care has become a prime factor in providing quality treatment and care. During the pandemic phase, all doctors and healthcare workers were at the forefront, and amongst them nursing care has undergone a sea change. Hospitals across the country will look at training nurses and supporting them with high-end equipment, infrastructure resources, training workshops, and knowledge sharing.

The pandemic has also enabled the smaller hospitals and nursing homes to cater to critically ill patients. This has paved the way for the need to have an effective management of ICUs, not just in bigger but also in smaller hospitals. The ICUs should be well equipped with infrastructure, medical equipment, sufficient manpower, and qualified paramedics. This effective management of ICU will be a key factor for any hospital irrespective of the size.

What sets your hospitals apart from your peers?

We grew from a 30-bed hospital to a 200-bed facility, in the first few years most of our patients were friends and relatives. And then, relatives and friends of friends and relatives. As a result, the personal touch was a default. We then expanded to Chennai and other parts of Tamil Nadu and also in Karnataka. We strived very hard to maintain this personal
