

DISPUTE RESOLUTION HUB – USHERING IN THE NEXT GEN OF ARBITRATION IN INDIA

With over 20 years of profound expertise EXIM matters, Foreign Trade, Trade Marks & Copy rights, Taxation, Corporate Law, Business process and risk management coupled experience in successful value creation, risk assessment, Debt cycle/ Working Capital management, Dispute Resolution Hub has the domain expertise to quickly understand the client's issues in Micro, Small, Medium and Large organizations belonging to FMCG, AGRO, Education, Healthcare, Technology, ITES, BFSI sectors and recommend them the right solution at the right time.

Dispute Resolution Hub is a facilitator for Online Alternative Dispute Resolution (OADR) with a state of art technology addressing strategic and technologic needs of legal as well as business fraternity. With sound knowledge and know-how in court procedures, data confidentiality, privacy norms, ADR and allied laws, it has been constantly helping litigants and Counsels in selection of Mediator, or Conciliator or Arbitrator with required skills and technical know-how relevant to the contracts.

Dispute Resolution Hub has made a mark in the field of E-ADR. A preferred mode of conflict resolution amongst corporates, it brings about a Quicker Resolution, with the hearings conveniently scheduled based on the availability of parties and the Mediator/Conciliator/Arbitrator. It provides online as well as offline platforms for ADR, facilitates cloud data storage of the meetings and discussion conducted, data shared. It is less complicated with standard rules of evidence and procedure. It is impartial and less expensive while successfully ending the dispute in majority of cases.

Looking at it in detail, "Justice delayed is justice denied" goes a saying. Our Courts recommend and encourage alternate means of settlement between parties. This paved way for three methods namely:

➤ Moksha Kalyanram Abhiramula

1. Mediation - an impartial and unbiased person is selected on behalf of both the parties for assisting both the parties in negotiation. The mediator is only a facilitator for resolving the disputes.
2. Conciliation is a voluntary, flexible, confidential, and interest-based process. The parties seek to reach an amicable dispute settlement with the assistance of the conciliator, a neutral third party.
3. Arbitration is the most popular methods of Alternative Dispute Resolution. It deals with settlement of disputes outside the traditional court system.

With piles of issues vying for the attention of the legal system, a switch from the traditional and conventional method of resolving the disputes was needed. While arbitration is surely gaining ground, with the advent of digital technologies E-Arbitration or Online Dispute Resolution is emerging as a Game Changer. It has enabled a faster, smoother and swift settlement of disputes.

OADR i.e., E-Arbitration, E-Mediation, E-Conciliation has many benefits over the age-old method and conventional system of dispute resolution. OADR has gained momentum with many parties and companies opting for the same. It is becoming the nationwide norm to address disputes in the industry of e-commerce and e-contracts. The privacy and the confidentiality of the parties is of utmost importance and hence all the measure and means are in place to preserve the data involved.

Dispute Resolution Hub has a well-established step by step process to resolve the dispute in hassle freeway. It starts with fixing appointments, discussing the Facts and Issues, Appointment, filing of claims and objections, filing of supporting documents, submission of written arguments and finally, the AWARD.

Dispute Resolution Hub ensure an environment which is healthy, leading to building of trust and reliability. It aims to keep Corporate India focused on growing India's economy.