

TOUGH LESSONS

TOP TAKEAWAYS FOR START-UPS FROM THE SILICON VALLEY BANK COLLAPSE

- ▶ Start-ups should diversify their funds and bank with more than one partner
- ▶ Bank money only up to the insured limit provided by the regulator
- ▶ Maintain visibility into own and partner firms' balance sheets
- ▶ They should focus on the finance stack as much as the technology stack
- ▶ Hire risk managers/finance heads early on in your start-up journey
- ▶ Start-ups should be domiciled in their home countries when possible

SOURCE NATIONAL VENTURE CAPITAL ASSOCIATION, IT MINISTRY, SEC FILINGS, INDUSTRY ESTIMATES

29%

SHARE OF DEPOSITS
MADE BY EARLY-STAGE
START-UPS IN SVB

$1 BN+

UNINSURED DEPOSITS
MADE BY INDIAN
START-UPS IN SVB

$250 MN+

AMOUNT TRANSFER-RED TO GIFT CITY IN
THE FIRST WEEK OF THE SVB CRISIS

tion banking and API integration around their needs. By supporting start-ups through the initial setup, large banks can unlock a significant mutually beneficial future opportunity," Fafadia explains. Iron Pillar's Prasanna agrees: "More and more Indian companies are now scaling globally. Providing truly global solutions for these companies in an efficient manner could be