

DIGITAL HEALTH Going forward, advanced technologies will be used to combat future pandemics and existing life-threatening diseases

The global market for virtual or remote healthcare is expected to touch $450 billion by 2030, according to Statista

The Indian healthtech market is expected to grow at a CAGR of 39 per cent to reach $50 billion by 2033, says a report by RBSA Advisors

The healthtech market comprising telemedicine, e-pharmacy, fitness, wellness, healthcare IT, analytics, home healthcare and personal health management is currently worth about $2 billion in India