

“If you see where the market is versus where it was a few years ago, PSBs have consolidated and large private sector banks are very selective in underwriting”

Jairam Sridharan
MD, PIRAMAL CAPITAL & HOUSING FINANCE LTD

“If your greatest attraction for getting into the financial services business is the regulatory arbitrage between banks and NBFC, it’s over now”

Manish Shah
MD & CEO, GODREJ CAPITAL

A CHALLENGING GAME

► Consolidation is a challenge especially due to integration and cultural issues

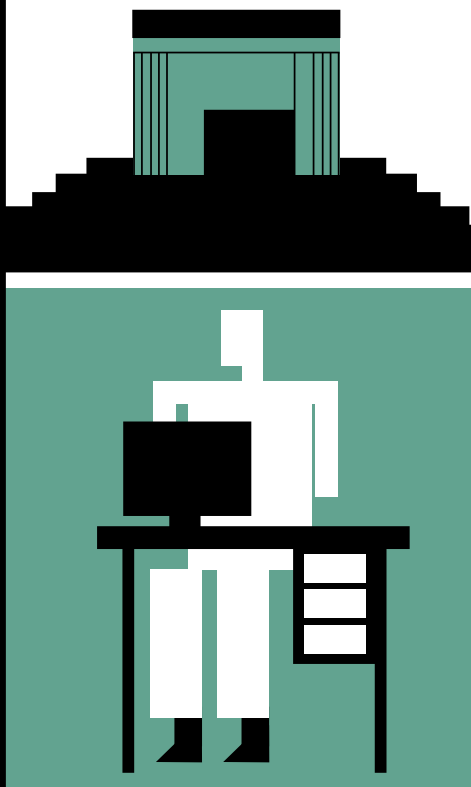

► Bigger traditional banks are also digitising, and expanding into smaller geographies

► There is no regulatory arbitrage advantage for NBFCs due to bank-like regulations for all players

► The cost of funds is an issue as these entities have to tap a not-so-well-developed debt market

► With the fintech disruption underway in full swing, financial services is a crowded space today

► These financial services upstarts are late entrants to the BFSI party

“The industry has gone through tough times, and needs reputed players who are well capitalised to offer innovative solutions leveraging technology”

Abhay Bhutada
MD, POONAWALLA FINCORP

“We have to set ourselves up for the next phase of growth. And the platform here allows us to grow at least three times over the next five years”

Surojit Shome
MANAGING DIRECTOR & CEO, DBS BANK INDIA
