FLIP IT OR FOLD IT

IF YOU'RE A FAN OF FOLDABLES, YOU'LL LOVE SAMSUNG'S OFFERINGS THIS YEAR. BUT WHICH ONE IS THE RIGHT FIT FOR YOU?

128 | Want a phone with a big screen? Check. Want a phone that easily slips into your pocket? Check. Meet the Z Flip5 that gives you both thanks to its foldable form factor. What's more, you also get the performance of a flagship, and a secondary screen.

Cover screen: The Z Flip5 has a sleek and stylish design, with a 3.4-inch secondary screen on the cover. When folded, the cover screen helps access notifications. Responding to WhatsApp messages is a breeze with preset replies or a QWERTY keyboard. It also has useful widgets like calendar, voice recorder, health tracker and phone. But the cover screen supports only a limited number of apps, which need to be enabled in settings.

Main screen: Unfolded, the Z Flip5 becomes a regular Samsung flagship. The 6.7-inch main screen has excellent touch response, with superb legibility outdoors. The crease at the centre is noticeable only from certain angles, but doesn't affect usability. It's perfect for regular tasks, and with a Snapdragon 8 Gen 2 processor under the hood, it feels blazing fast. When I used it as my daily driver, the battery lasted for a day.

Flex mode: One of my favourite modes, the screen stays at a 90-degree angle, and apps open on the top of the screen with additional controls at the bottom—perfect when using YouTube, email and camera.

Camera: The high-resolution dual camera is great for snapping images, including selfies. The rear camera can be used even when the Z Flip5 is folded, where the cover screen acts as a viewfinder. The phone excels as a video recorder in Tent and Flex modes. While imaging is great on the Z Flip5, the S23 Ultra does a better job.

Verdict: The Z Flip5's form factor makes it perfect for those who want flagship functions in a compact device. BT
