► Flying first class is definitely a memorable experience, and more so with Singapore Airlines. If you are travelling with a loved one, the divider between cabins can be removed to make a double bed. A sliding door gives you privacy. There is an en-suite wardrobe, and you dine on your personal dining table in proper bone china from Wedgwood. Pre-book your meal from an international panel of chefs. And as if that's not enough, there are well-appointed lavatories to complete your suite experience.
