► Is it a tyre? Is it a shoe? This pair from Balenciaga is guaranteed to make you—or those around you—do a double take. This showstopper from designer Demna Gvasalia—known for his outlandish creations—is possibly the most outrageous of them all. At first glance, it looks like the top half of a sneaker fused to a tyre, and you might wonder whether wearing them would be comfortable. But slip them on and you would feel as if you're floating—at least that's what some users say. This pair does deserve a place in your wardrobe, though you should think twice before you walk on potholed roads while wearing them, despite the tyre reference.
