

An Extraordinary Journey

1952

Mohanjeet Grewal travels to the US for a Master's in Political Science at the University of California, Los Angeles, followed by a PhD at Berkeley. She also has a stint as a journalist

1964

Launches her first store in Paris called "La Malle de l'Inde" after moving to the French capital. Today her store is called Mohanjeet

1970

Jane Fonda wears Mohanjeet for Vogue magazine. By this time, Grewal is a top designer in the fashion circuit

I

WILL GO WHERE the sky meets the earth, I used to tell my father, who was a Director of Education at Patiala in Punjab. And he would say, 'Go on, run then Minto' and I have been running, chasing my heart, my dreams ever since, and there is so much more I want to do," says Mohanjeet Grewal—who turned 92 recently—in her honeyed, quavering voice, narrating her magical journey from Lahore to Paris, the fashion capital of the world.

Today, Indian fashion is known for its cultural heritage, rich colours, natural textiles, intricate designs and elegance, and is often