

LEAVE YOUR MARK

Designed for the well-heeled traveller, the new cross-category Extreme 3.0 collection from Montblanc, is stylish yet highly functional. Comprising writing instruments, bags and watches, sleek leather shapes are treated with a fresh take on a signature Montblanc motif, whilst fine craftsmanship informs the creation of elegant timepieces. At the end, each design reflects the idea of mobility, a concept rooted deep in Montblanc's DNA: What moves you, makes you.

Travel today is as much about style as it is about where you go. Montblanc recognized this major shift in the way people moved and travelled almost over a 100 years ago. In recognition, the Luxury Maison set out to make writing instruments and bags to accompany those who embraced the inspirational power of their new-found mobility.

Today, under the banner of its What Moves You Makes You global brand platform, Montblanc inspires people to live a life of purpose and passion, leaving a mark on the world by following what truly moves them.

Tracing the trend

Right from the beginning, Montblanc has crafted products intended to be used on-the-go. In many cases, the company also introduced advanced technologies to ensure its products were functional for travel, such as its innovative fountain writing instruments and durable leather accessories.

Connected to its own mission of inspiring people to leave their mark by following their own path to success, the collection is made up of products that encourage and facilitate movement, ultimately reminding people that the way they choose to move inspires the mark they make on the world.

"Montblanc has a rich heritage as an innovator, crafting products for anyone embracing the inspirational power of their new-found mobility. However, when we think of mobility, it is not only physical movement from one point to another, but the ability to move through life by achieving our goals and ambitions with greater passion and meaning. Our ambition is to give people new ways to connect with the idea of mobility, on their own terms with pieces that have functional and inspirational value to them," says Marco Tomasetta, Montblanc Creative Director.

A collector's delight: The Extreme 3.0 collection

The Extreme 3.0 collection titled "On The Move" by artistic director Marco Tomasetta once again highlights Montblanc's commitment to inspire people to leave their mark by moving with purpose, accompanied by products that deliver function and style.

Comprising writing instruments, leather goods, connected technologies and timepieces, each product addresses different aspects of mobility:

- Montblanc Extreme 3.0 leather goods have been conceived to withstand the demands of everyday travel by pushing the boundaries of technical innovation to achieve new heights of durability and performance. In its latest evolution, Montblanc Extreme 3.0 collection features a new leather design, original formats and detailing, with a focus on minimizing environmental impact using leather obtained from a CO2 neutral tanning process and lining made from recycled fibres. The Montblanc Extreme motif has been enlarged on two different scales - a bigger treatment for bags and a smaller one for small accessories.

Three bags and a belt in the collection feature an innovative M LOCK 4810 closure inspired by the climbing world with a bold black finish. Montblanc Extreme 3.0 is made up of a selection of different shapes, sizes and functions in signature Montblanc Black and an eye-catching British Green, designed to fit the lifestyles of those for whom every day is not about routine, but about adventure, whether at work or at play.
