

ON THE MOVE

Montblanc's new campaign, "On The Move", starring Cillian Murphy, Actor, Markmaker at Montblanc, celebrates mobility and the power it has to help us leave our mark.

"Montblanc has always understood the power of mobility, to move freely not just physically, but moving ahead to grow and ultimately thrive. With this new campaign, we are encouraging a new generation of Montblanc customers to get out and move with passion, curiosity and style, as they pursue what truly matters to them in life", says Vincent Montalescot, Montblanc CMO.

The campaign features actor Cillian Murphy who has moved through life making his own bold decisions, choosing his own direction on his path to success. In the hero film, Cillian Murphy can be seen moving through a world that moves in a different direction to everyone else's. By doing so, he reveals that following one's passions is likely the right direction to move in.

Created by award-winning agency Wieden + Kennedy Amsterdam and executed by director Ian Pons Jewell, the captivating technique shines new light on a seemingly everyday journey and marks an evolution for the brand as it articulates its vision for mobility.

"It's easy to question whether you have taken the right direction in life and wonder what might have been if you had taken another path. While the way we move certainly defines us, this campaign ultimately reveals that if you do what moves you and really means something to you, then you are likely travelling in the right direction", says Cillian Murphy, Actor, Markmaker at Montblanc.

The writing instruments from Montblanc's latest collection are a fine blend of pure elegance & functional design titanium, configurable watch faces rich in details paired with calf leather and rubber straps.

The Summit 3 smartwatch incorporates the latest Wear OS by Google and curated apps to meet the functional needs of its owner. The line-up includes three versions of the smartwatch – Titanium Grey paired with black calf and blue rubber straps, Titanium Black paired with black calf and black rubber straps, as well as Titanium Bicolor paired with a Montblanc Extreme 3.0 British green calf leather strap and black rubber straps – and the personalization options are extensive.

• Montblanc 1858 GMT Automatic Date is about living life through time zones, with a watch function that shows the time in two different places at the same time without hands. The ingenious system indicates the second time zone with a red square that moves around the outside of the dial, positioned next to a fixed black or blue anodized aluminium bezel that shows the 24-hour clock so the user immediately knows if it is day or night in the second time zone too. It comes in a 42 mm stainless steel case with a choice of a black or blue sunray dial, both of which are adorned with blue luminescent hands and indexes, accompanied by a tapered, interchangeable, stainless-steel bracelet with a fine adjustment system for precision fitting, which can be switched out for a black or blue rubber strap in seconds. The titanium engraved case back shows the planet's continents and oceans, along with the names of cities in each of the 24 time zones, offering a world-time indication.

Montblanc On The Move cross-category collection is available at all Montblanc boutiques.

• StarWalker BlackCosmos explores the aspirational theme of mobility telling the story of humankind's fascination with space exploration and the wonder of walking among the stars. The writing instruments feature a new surface treatment that evokes the compact and rocky surface of terrestrial planets and yet undiscovered planets in the darkness of the cosmos.

A distinctive design feature of the collection, the translucent dome features a floating Montblanc emblem above a grey base. An all-black Precious Resin Edition with PVD coated metal fittings, a Doué Edition with a precious resin barrel paired with a needled metal cap, and a Metal edition featuring the needled metal effect throughout. Each edition is available as a Fountain Writing instruments, Fineliner and Ballpoint.

• The Montblanc Summit 3 Smartwatch addresses the need for more connectivity through technology for those constantly on the move. It is the latest iteration of the Maison's signature smartwatch, an expression of elevated luxury with a case crafted in precious hand-brushed

From (Left) Style meets function in the Montblanc 1858 GMT Automatic Date.

From (Right) A standout feature of the GMT Automatic is the titanium-engraved case back that showcases continents and oceans, along with the names of cities in each of the 24 time zones, offering a world-time indication

