PHARMA COMPANIES HAVE STARTED LOOKING BEYOND COVID-19 DRUGS FOR NEW AREAS OF INVESTMENT AND GROWTH

BY NEETU CHANDRA SHARMA

THE THINNING TALLY of coronavirus cases in India is diminishing the influence of Covid-19 on the domestic pharmaceutical industry's sales and future plans. After having shown resilience in the toughest of times and after harnessing the immense opportunities that came with the pandemic, Indian pharma is now returning to business as usual, moving away from Covid-19-related products. Anand Rathi Equity Research's research analyst Aarti Rao and research associate Maulik Varia say footfalls in dermatology (skin),
