LUXE FOR KIDS

From diaper bags to strollers, your kids can be surrounded with high fashion from the moment they are born

BY SMITA TRIPATHI

LUXURY FASHION houses know that the way to your wallet is through your kids. No wonder, then, that nearly every big global brand—read Dior, Gucci, Burberry, Versace, etc.—has a children's line. After all, there is something special about buying things for the little people in your life. At Burberry, for instance, the children's line contributed £144 million in 2020-21 as compared to £127 million in 2019-20. Though this is much smaller than their women's, men's and accessories ranges, it was the only sector that grew. Here's our pick of the fashionable best for your 'little me'.

GG PLUS DIAPER BAG

► Here's something to up the style quotient of a new parent—the Gucci diaper bag in a durable coated canvas. The messenger-style bag designed for on-the-go parenting not only looks sleek but also comes with plenty of functionality, including a fold-out changing mat with pockets, and compartments both inside and outside to keep you organised on the go. The canvas is lightweight and mess-free, making it easy to wipe clean.
