

OIL & GAS

♦ One-time grant to oil marketing companies for losses incurred on the sale of transportation fuels such as motor spirit (MS) and high-speed diesel (HSD)

♦ Remove Special Additional Excise Duty (SAED) on exports of key products such as MS, HSD and aviation turbine fuel (ATF), which was brought in to ensure adequate supply of petroleum products and to reduce the revenue lost after cutting excise duty on the sale of petroleum products

♦ Reduce the 18 per cent GST on liquefied natural gas (LNG) regasification

♦ Upward revision in excise duty on unblended petrol and diesel to encourage ethanol blending

♦ Include petroleum products and natural gas in GST

—Manish Pant

AUTO

♦ Rationalise GST rates. Reduce import duties on luxury cars

♦ Adhere to a uniform GST of 18 per cent for auto components

♦ To accelerate the penetration of EVs, include them in Priority Sector Lending (PSL) to make financing cheaper and make them affordable

♦ Bring in a broader FAME III with at least five times the targets of FAME II. Include EVs that are currently sold without a battery and which rely on battery swapping networks so that EV adoption through newer operating models like electric mobility as a service (eMaaS) can be accelerated

♦ Continue the growth-oriented projects for which the government had earmarked ₹7.5 lakh crore last year. Take steps to boost consumption in the rural economy

— Prerna Lidhoo

BFSI

♦ Provide more clarity on the timeline for privatising two mid-sized public sector banks (PSBs)

♦ While the Budget is unlikely to pump in funds for PSB recapitalisation, there is need for a privatisation and disinvestment push to facilitate capital for the weaker PSBs

♦ Make investments in bank fixed deposits up to ₹5 lakh tax-free to increase bank deposit growth

♦ Plug gaps in the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code, especially with more NCLT benches, faster resolution time, and regulations for cross-border insolvency in companies with global operations

♦ Extend the Emergency Credit Line Guarantee Scheme (ECLGS) beyond March 2023 to support the MSME segment's revival
