

REINVENTING THE COLOSSUS

N. Chandrasekaran,
Chairman, Tata Sons

» Chandrasekaran said he is very bullish on India and the bulk of capital investments for the Tata group over the next five years will happen in India; the group is expected to grow at around 20 per cent year-on-year

» He elaborated that while there is no slowdown in the consumer business, the growth in demand in Tier II locations is higher when compared to metros or Tier I cities

» Chandrasekaran said that the group is working on revamping Air India with the aim of developing an airline that every Indian is proud of; but the group would need time for that

5 Praveer Sinha, CEO & MD of Tata Power, receives the Best CEO in Power award

6 Dinesh Kumar Khara, Chairman of SBI, receives the Best CEO in BFSI award

7 N. Chandrasekaran, Chairman of Tata Sons, receives the Business Icon of the Year award

8 Vivek Prasad, Markets Leader of PwC India, explains how the winners were picked

