

The Jose Cuervo Express is an old-fashioned train complete with luxury wagons. The trip includes tequila tastings, a distillery visit, agave harvesting demonstration and some sightseeing as well

| 93

1 The islands in the Caribbean are known for their carnival parties with catchy music, colourful costumes, delicious food and dancing

2 Do you have it in you to survive in the Amazon forests? Find out, by taking a jungle survival course

3 The Tequila Train travels from the city of Guadalajara in western Mexico to the town of Tequila full-day trip that includes tequila tastings on the train, followed by a visit to a tequila distillery, an agave harvesting demonstration and some good old-fashioned sightseeing in the town of Tequila. Enjoy onboard entertainment such as Loteria (Mexican bingo), Mexican snacks and tequila cocktails. Tickets for the Elite class are for around $215 each, but they get sold out fast and need to be booked in advance.

► It's Carnival Time!

Besides the sun, sand and sea, the small islands in the Caribbean are known for their carnival parties with catchy music, colourful costumes, delicious food and loads of drinking and dancing. Enjoy a plethora of events including street parties, calypso performances, costume parades, etc., throughout your stay there. Carnivals are spread across the Caribbean and are celebrated on different islands in different months. Check out St. Vincent at the Grenadines in June and July, Grenada Island in August and the Barbados from July through August. BT

@smitabw