

People are getting benefits of various welfare schemes

Many schemes have also been implemented in education and health sectors. Swami Atmanand English Medium Schools and Swami Atmanand Hindi Medium Schools have been opened. For ensuring proper health facilities to the people, about Rs. 5 lakh to poor families and about Rs.50,000 to other families are being provided under Dr. Khoobchand Baghel Swasthya Sahayata Yojana. For seriously ill patients, a monetary benefit of Rs. 20 lakh is being provided under the Mukhyamantri Vishesh Swasthya Sahayata Yojana. In addition to this, Mukhyamantri Haat bazar Clinic Yojana, Mukhyamantri Shehri Slum Swasthya Yojna, Dai-Didi Clinic Yojna have also been started. In this way, CM Mr. Bhupesh Baghel is deeply committed for making a prosperous and develop State of Chhattisgarh taking support of each and every section of the people of the State.

Godhan NYAY Yojana is financially empowering women self-help groups in Chhattisgarh

The successful implementation of the Chhattisgarh Government's 'Godhan NYAY Yojana' has yielded fruitful results, providing rural residents with new employment opportunities. This first-of-its-kind scheme is playing a crucial role in empowering rural masses, stock farmers, and women self-help groups, enabling them to achieve self-reliance.

The scheme has proven to be a sustainable source of income for the Gwalin Women Self-Help Group operated in the village Barhi of Balod district. These women have successfully produced an impressive 1,300 quintals of vermicompost at Barhi Gauthan. Notably, they have sold 1,007 quintals of vermicompost worth Rs 5.20 lakh, resulting in the generation of net income worth Rs 47,272 per member. This initiative not only creates employment opportunities within the village but also fosters a sense of self-confidence among women.

Significantly, the Godhan NYAY Yojana goes beyond its primary objective of relieving reliance on harmful chemical fertilizers. It also plays a pivotal role in preserving the fertility of agricultural land. The scheme has become a reliable source of
