

THE GROUP'S VISION IS TO CONTINUE LIVING OUR PURPOSE; BE THE LEADER IN EVERY INDUSTRY WE ARE PRESENT IN; AND CREATE VALUE FOR OUR SHAREHOLDERS

been very selective about who we bring in. As long as we continue delivering on what we committed to, we will have investors willing to invest in us. If we focus on that, there's no dearth of capital. The minute we stop delivering, everybody will start asking questions.

So our approach is very clear: make bold commitments, but make commitments that you can deliver on. Do less, but do it well.

Can you give us an example of doing less but doing it well?

Let's start with the auto business. We focussed on our core, that is authentic SUVs, with the aim of being the No. 1 SUV player. The result? Our SUV market share grew from 13.6 per cent in FY21 to 19.1 per cent in FY23. That 19.1 per cent should go much higher. As you think about Born Electric SUVs, we will be No.1 in that space by far. So that's one example of focus.

Second, let us look at the overseas markets.

If we have made it big in India, [then] we have the ability to be successful in international markets as well. We're going to start with phase I, where we are looking at three markets: Australia, South Africa and Chile. Can we get to a high market share in these three markets? And then once we do that, we'll look at phase II beyond them. So pick specific things but do them in a big way.

Does it help that you have a consulting background that allows you to see the bigger picture?

That has definitely helped. The ability to see the bigger picture helps but as a leader it's also the ability to know when to get into details and when to step back and let others go into them. The ability to trust leaders, drive accountability, take hard decisions and stay firm on them, in the interest of business, is important. Setting a high bar for delivery and being able to maintain it has helped a lot.

Your global strategy has been measured. How does one pick up on slots in a global market?

For a global strategy or [global] acquisitions, the most important thing is understanding the objective: Why are we doing this? And then equally important, is the ability to deliver what we have said we will do... And often, if I were to look at the history of companies over time, there were some things done because they sounded very exciting or very appealing. The discipline comes in asking, 'Is it core to our strategy? Is it something that's going to help us? And is this something we're going to deliver on?' One term that we use with the board is that we have earned the right to dream big. So, have the discipline that even as you dream big, deliver on what you have been dreaming about. BT
