

THE ROYAL COUNTY DOWN GOLF CLUB, NEWCASTLE, NORTHERN IRELAND

Set in the beautiful Murlough Nature Reserve along the shores of Dundrum Bay, the Royal County offers golfers gorgeous views of the Irish Sea and the Mourne Mountains. However, don't let the beauty of the course fool you. With blind tee shots, narrow fairways, deep bunkers, and fast greens, the Royal County is a true test of golf. As a non-member, you can play on Mondays, Tuesdays and Fridays. Green fees for May-September are £325 (₹33,600). Between November-April it varies between £150-195 (₹15,500-20,100). You need to connect with the club and book your tee times much in advance.

THE ROYAL MELBOURNE GOLF CLUB, VICTORIA, AUSTRALIA

If you happen to be Down Under, The Royal Melbourne Golf Club is a must-visit for golf lovers. The club has two courses—West and East. The West Course designed by Alister MacKenzie is considered among the top five globally, while the East Course is considered the best in Australia. However, it is a members-only golf club that allows visitors to play provided they are members of reciprocal clubs. There is a form on the website you can fill in to check availability. You need to provide details of your club and your handicap. Green fees for overseas visitors are A$750 (₹41,500).
