

MRITYUNJAY SHAHI AND THE ART OF FINTECH FOR THE MASSES

Mrityunjay Shahi's Salary Dost is leading disruption in the easy loan space by changing the rules of access to easy loans and rolling out a host of new – age financial products.

Getting a loan and making financial judgements is often an unnerving task for many of us. Some do not have enough understanding, some lack proper guidance, while others lack credentials to borrow.

The Mumbai-based pecuniary solutions provider Salary Dost is resolving all these problems with ease. A champion that promotes a 'Digital & cashless India', Salary Dost is challenging the paradigm of easy spending through hassle-free access to loans including those who don't qualify for loans under the standard cookie cutter commercial loan offerings.

Mrityunjay founded Salary Dost in 2018. He focussed on technology, greater access to entertainment and information, to create a formidable model for success. His realization that technology is not just for entertainment but is an enabler used to access critical life items, enthused him to start Salary Dost and build it into a true game changer in the inclusive fintech industry. Equipped with a wide and deep experience he gained from his endeavours, Mrityunjay Says "With Salary Dost, I wanted to eliminate the complications that I identified while working in different financial sectors. Hence, we started the company with a vision to serve the customers at the grassroots." Like any other entrepreneur, Mrityunjay faced several preliminary challenges including adapting to the ecosystem, understanding the regulations of the fintech sector, making the brand relevant for the right set of customers. He was able to work out solutions for each one of them powered by his strong belief in the idea.

As a true leader, Mrityunjay has led Salary Dost to great heights of growth and success. Fuelled by an astounding INR 15cr plus loan disbursal benefitting over 20000 citizens, the company has scaled up to a remarkable 300% growth this year. Keeping pace with this trajectory of growth, the company aims to provide employment for 20000 plus candidates in the next five years in the fields of Credit, Operations, Collections, Customer Support, Marketing, and IT.

Not restricting itself, the company plans to diversify into other developed and competitive markets like SME loans, travel loans, education loans, consumer durable loans, buy-now-pay-later credit cards, to name a few. Also on anvil is a foray into health insurance for the blue collared at very competitive price plans.

In spite of constant changes in global economic situations, the digital and fintech landscape and regulatory frameworks, Mrityunjay has led Salary Dost to become an important player in the dynamic industry of digital lending. With such a simple yet effective financial service, Salary Dost is helping thousands of people in India, many of whom are desperately in need of short-term loans. While Mrityunjay aims to make Salary Dost the No.1 Fintech solutions provider of India in the next five years, Salary Dost is all set to become neo bank in the coming year, if things fall into place.
