

TOP 10 M&A DEALS IN 2021

Acquirer	Target	Sector	Deal size ($ billion)	Deal type	Percentage stake
Piramal Capital & Housing Finance	Dewan Housing Finance Corporation	Banking and financial services	5.1	Acquisition	100%
Prosus N.V.-PayU	BillDesk	IT & ITeS	4.7	Acquisition	100%
Adani Green Energy	SB Energy India	Energy and natural resources	3.5	Acquisition	100%
JSW Steel	Bhushan Power & Steel	Manufacturing	2.6	Acquisition	100%
Total SE (Now called TotalEnergies SE)	Adani Green Energy	Energy and natural resources	2.5	Minority stake	20%
Talace Pvt Ltd	Air India	Aviation	2.4	Acquisition	100%
Sumitomo Mitsui Financial Group	Fullerton India Credit Company	Banking and financial services	2	Majority stake	75%
Wipro	Capco	IT & ITeS	1.5	Acquisition	100%
Tata Digital	bigbasket	E-commerce	1.2	Controlling stake	64%
BYJU'S	Aakash Educational Services	Education	1	Acquisition	100%

SOURCE GRANT THORNTON ANNUAL DEALTRACKER 2021

TOP 10 M&A DEALS IN 2022 YTD

Acquirer	Target	Sector	Deal size ($ billion)	Deal type	Percentage stake
HDFC Bank	HDFC	Banking and financial services	40	Merger (Domestic)	N.A.
L&T Infotech	Mindtree	IT and ITeS	18	Merger (Domestic)	N.A.
Adani group	Holcim's cement businesses in India	Manufacturing	10.5	Acquisition (Domestic)	N.A.
Google International LLC	Bharti Airtel	Telecom	0.7	Minority stake (Inbound)	1%
Tech Mahindra	Com Tec Co IT	IT and ITeS	0.35	Acquisition (Outbound)	100%
Reliance Retail Ventures	Dunzo Digital	E-commerce	0.2	Strategic stake (Domestic)	26%
Jio Platforms	Glance Digital Experience	Start-up	0.2	Minority stake (Domestic)	N.A.
Crompton Greaves Consumer Electricals	Butterfly Gandhimathi Appliances	Retail and consumer	0.19	Controlling stake (Domestic)	55%
Generali Participations Netherlands	Future Generali India Life Insurance	Banking and financial services	0.17	Strategic stake (Inbound)	25%
Reliance New Energy Solar	Faradion	Energy and natural resources	0.14	Acquisition (Outbound)	100%

DATA AS ON Q1 CY2022; SOURCE GRANT THORNTON, MEDIA REPORTS, ANNOUNCEMENTS

over the past seven years. The period between 2015 and 2020 revolved around companies in distress. Prominent deals concluded then include the acquisition of the Ruia family-promoted Essar Oil by Russian energy major Rosneft; Tata Steel's buyout of Usha Martin's steel business; Hathway Cable and Den Networks selling out to Reliance Industries; and the Murugappa Group taking over the scam-hit CG Power.

The tipping point, say investment bankers, was Rosneft cutting a cheque for $12.9 billion to acquire Essar Oil. Reeling under debt of over ₹1.8 lakh crore before the deal, the Essar group, with a presence in steel, power and oil, was under tremendous pressure from lenders—a consortium led by the State Bank of India and ICICI Bank. A former SBI official recalls a meeting when the message from the bank's top brass, at the peak of the Rosneft deal being negotiated, was devoid of any ambiguity. "We have to get our money back at any cost. This deal is critical," was all that was said. Lenders, at that point, were a harried lot with the poor quality of borrowers in India across many large industrial groups not helping their cause. The sale of Essar Oil took place in August 2017 and the ushering in of the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code (IBC) around that time opened the floodgates for the sale of good assets that had been managed poorly. From distress, the next